'Lovely, lively, passionate... a celebration of nature's ability to inspire healing and joy' Robert MacFarlane In the breaststrokes of Roger Deakin's Waterlog, this is the story of one man's search for himself across the breadth of Britain's wild waters. Joe Minihane became obsessed with wild swimming and the way it soothed his anxiety, developing a new-found passion by following the example of naturalist Deakin in his own swimming memoir. While fighting the currents - sometimes treading water Minihane swims to explore, to forget, to find the path back to himself through nature, and in the water under an open sky he finally begins to find his peace. Floating is a remarkable memoir about a love of swimming and a deep appreciation for the British countryside: it captures Minihane's struggle to understand himself, and the healing properties of wild stretches of water. From Hampstead to Yorkshire, Dorset to Jura, the Isles of Scilly to Wales, Minihane uses Waterlog to trace his own path by diving right in.

Affascinato da "quest'immensa rete dorata" seppe darne una descrizione accurata, dapprima cogli occhi storditi di un semplice turista poi con la consapevolezza quasi di un parigino. E' minuzioso nel descrivere le sue bellezze ed altrettanto nel rilevarne le tentazioni alle quali ❖ impossibile resistere.

“Il mio babbo diceva sempre che esiste una primavera per ogni vita”. Parla così un personaggio del libro. Poi la protagonista racconta: “in una fotografia riconobbi la madre di Gisella insieme a suo marito, ancora giovani, abbracciati sul Ponte Vecchio a Firenze e nell'altra, i due sposi erano insieme ai loro bambini. Pensai che quella doveva essere stata la primavera delle loro vite.” La primavera è la giovinezza che fiorisce come nel quadro di Botticelli; la primavera è una donna in stato interessante. Magra consolazione per la protagonista del libro costretta a fare i conti con una primavera che si fa beffa di lei negandosi e lasciando il posto ad un tardo e triste autunno che si ostina ad inseguirla. L'autunno sono gli alberi spogli e addobbati con le luci delle feste. L'autunno è la vita del personaggio principale nel momento in cui perde il lavoro, l'amore e la maternità. L'autunno è una galleria di personaggi strani che bloccano il passaggio alla protagonista e la trattengono tra di loro: dall'uomo col cappotto di lana marrone, alla donna morta, al magrebino, all'uomo della cioccolateria, al tale che si siede da solo ad un tavolo per dodici, a Gisella, l'amica del cuore che non si cura dei suoi sentimenti. Un romanzo sulle stagioni della vita e sul carpe diem ovvero sull'attimo da cogliere e da fissare prima che, inevitabilmente, passi per non ritornare mai più.

Michael Thonet is considered the inventor of the process of bentwood production, characterized by flowing forms and the resulting lightweight product. This volume is a detailed examination of the Thonet rocking chair's evolution between 1860 and 1900.

A Legal Thriller about two lawyers working on opposite sides of the Channel, whose destinies are fatally intertwined. A pharmaceutical patent worth billions, a brutally murdered man and a trial that appears impossible to win. These are the facts at the centre of two young lawyers' lives. The lives of men from two contrasting worlds whose paths criss-cross in a game of shadows and reflections. Where money and revenge mark the boundaries where enemies become allies; where there is no certainty, only doubt and suspicion. A subtle line which separates ordinary lives, from those destroyed by fear; it will be up to the two adversaries on either side of the legal fence to rise above an international plot which could endanger their careers and, perhaps, their very lives... A gripping legal thriller from the very first page. PUBLISHER: TEKTIME

As a first-time visitor to London, De Amicis was awestruck by the bustle and magnificence of the Victorian metropolis and wrote a number of sketches in his trademark witty, observational style, which made him one of the best-selling travel writers of his age. Originally conceived as a series of newspaper articles and later published in volume form, De Amicis's Memories of London brings back to life all the bygone charm of the capital of the British Empire. De Amicis's impressions are paired here with a piece written by one of his contemporaries, the French writer Louis Laurent Simonin, which leaves the city's opulence and grandeur behind and offers an uncompromising look at the poverty and squalor of its most deprived areas.

CWA GOLD DAGGER WINNER THREE MEN - TWO CONVICTIONS - ONE LAST SCORE - NO MORE CHANCES Carved from a lifetime of experience that runs the gamut from incarceration to liberation. Dog Eat Dog is the story of three men fresh out of prison who now have the task of adapting to civilian life. The California three strikes law looms over them, but what the hell, they're going to do it their way. Troy, an aloof mastermind, seeks an uncomplicated, clean life but cannot get away from his hatred for the system. Diesel is on the mob's payroll and interest in his suburban home and nagging wife is waning. The loose cannon of the trio, Mad Dog, is possessed by true demons within, that lead him from one explosive situation to the next. One last big hit, one more jackpot, and they'll be set for life. Troy constructs the perfect crime and they pull it off, but it is still not enough to prevent a denouement that has a grim and violent inevitability about it. 'The 'Angel Dust' of crime fiction - thrillingly violent and addictive' - Evening Standard 'The best armed robbery novel ever written' - James Ellroy

Discusses renowned masters including Roberto Rossellini and Federico Fellini, as well as directors lesser known outside Italy like Dino Risi and Ettore Scola. The author examines overlooked Italian genre films such as horror movies, comedies, and Westerns, and he also devotes attention to neglected periods like the Fascist era. He illuminates the epic scope of Italian filmmaking, showing it to be a powerful cultural force in Italy and leaving no doubt about its enduring influence abroad. Encompassing the social, political, and technical aspects of the craft, the author recreates the world of Italian cinema.

Eloise is an erratic, faded fashionista. Bradley is a glum but wily teenager. In need of help to write her racy 1960s memoirs, the former 'shock frock' fashion guru tolerates his common ways. Unable to remember his name, she calls him Boy. Desperate to escape a brutal home life, he puts up with her bossiness and confusing notes. Both guard secrets. How did she lose her fame and fortune? What is he scheming - beyond getting his hands on her bank card? And just what's hidden in that mysterious locked room?

This is Life is a missing baby mystery and an enchanted Parisian adventure. Hand in hand with lovable heroine Aurélie Renard, you will see life as you've never seen it before, discover the key to great art, witness the true cost of love, and learn how all these things may be controlled by the in-breath of a cormorant. Chock-full of charming characters and hilarious set-pieces this is a hugely enjoyable novel that will make you see life anew.

Giangiaco Feltrinelli was the most glamorous international publisher of his generation. A member of an ultra-left group, his death was the result of a botched terrorist attempt. In this work, his son reflects on his life.

Ponti e muri sono due idee di Europa (e di mondo): una focalizzata sulla paura, il bisogno di sicurezza e di nemici, e l'altra che aspira a un luogo che risponde al bisogno di futuro e di essere comunità capace di accogliere e di essere vicina a tutti. Il libro si apre con un reportage dalla Norvegia, con le testimonianze di alcuni sopravvissuti agli attentati di Oslo e Utoya del 22 luglio 2011. Capitolo dopo capitolo, ci saranno storie di muri e di ponti, di campi di battaglia diventati luoghi di incontri, di viaggi e di scambi Erasmus. Storie di generazioni di giovani che di quella passione hanno fatto un lavoro. Ci sarà spazio per un excursus storico e culturale che spiegherà come si arrivò al Manifesto di Ventotene e all'idea di un'Europa unita cercando risposte inclusive per un mondo da poco uscito dalla guerra, avviando un nuovo processo di integrazione tra Stati. Non mancheranno storie e riflessioni sui fallimenti dell'Europa, Brexit e Gilet gialli, sulla violenza dei discorsi d'odio sui social e nella vita reale, ma ci saranno anche le testimonianze di chi si impegna in buone pratiche in ambito culturale e sociale nel cuore e ai confini del continente. La chiusura ci riporterà a Utoya, e al racconto in presa diretta di un campo estivo otto anni dopo l'attacco terroristico, con le nuove generazioni, quelle che possono costruire una nuova Europa sconfiggendo il

Catalogues the heritage of images according to type and subject, from the ancient at the Monastery of Saint Catherine in the Sinai to those from Greece, Constantinople, and Russia. This book includes chapters such as role of icons in the Orthodox liturgy and on common iconic subjects, including the fathers and saints of the Eastern Church.

Brugge (Bruges), romantica e intessuta di canali, e Bruxelles, vivace e internazionale, sono entrambe imperdibili. Certo, la capitale è molto più grande, ma ambedue le città sfoggiano canali solcati da barche e battelli, parchi silenziosi, una rete di piste ciclabili, mercatini affollati, negozi di tendenza e musei d'arte ricchi di opere di artisti belgi, dai capolavori di Bruegel il vecchio al Tintin di Hergé; per non parlare della birra e del cioccolato tra i migliori del mondo. La guida comprende: Per cominciare, Burg, Markt e il nord, Il Groeningemuseum e il sud, Grand Place e Îlot Sacré, Musei del Quartiere Reale, Il Parc du Cinquantenaire e la zona UE, Guida Pratica.

Jerusalem without God leads the reader through the streets, malls, suburbs, traffic jams, and squares of Jerusalem's present moment, into the daily lives of the men and women who inhabit it. Caridi brings contemporary Jerusalem alive by describing it as a place of sights and senses, sounds and smells, but she also shows us a city riven by the harsh asymmetry of power and control embodied in its lines, limits, walls, and borders. She explores a cruel city, where Israeli and Palestinian civilians sometimes spend hours in the same supermarkets, only to return to the confines of their respective districts, invisible to each other.

Energy-Smart Buildings intends to provide a brief research source for building technology and regulations in terms of energy efficiency, as well as discussing fundamental aspects and cutting-edge trends for new buildings and retrofitting the current building stock. Additionally, sources of renewable and sustainable energy production and storage are reviewed, with case studies of such systems on buildings in a cold climate. This volume provides industry professionals, researchers and students with the most updated review on modern building ideas, and renewable energy technologies that can be coupled with them. It is especially valuable for those starting on a new topic of research or coming into the field.

Shortly before the inevitable Allied assault on Fortress Europe in 1944, Field-Marshal Erwin Rommel remarked to an aide The first 24 hours of the invasion will be decisive... For the Allies, as well as for Germany, it will be the longest day.

E' comodo definirsi scrittori da parte di chi non ha arte né parte. I letterati, che non siano poeti, cioè scrittori stringati, si dividono in narratori e saggisti. E' facile scrivere "C'era una volta...." e parlare di cazzate con nomi di fantasia. In questo modo il successo è assicurato e non hai rompiballe che si sentono diffamati e che ti querelano e che, spesso, sono gli stessi che ti condannano. Meno facile è essere saggisti e scrivere "C'è adesso...." e parlare di cose reali con nomi e cognomi. Impossibile poi è essere saggisti e scrivere delle malefatte dei magistrati e del Potere in generale, che per logica ti perseguitano per farti cessare di scrivere. Devastante è farlo senza essere di sinistra.
